How to arrive in Alcoi?

Alcoi (60000 inhabitants) located in South-East Spain, near to the Mediterranean Sea.

By plane

Alcoi is placed between the international airports of Manises (Valencia) and El Altet (Alicante). Both airports are about 10 km far from the respective city centre and less than 100 km from Alcoi. It is possible to travel from Valencia city centre to Alcoi by train or bus, but only by bus from Alicante city centre to Alcoi.

By train

Direct trains connect Alcoy and Valencia; others require transshipment at Xàtiva. Those train connections are available at Valencia Northern Station (Estación del Norte).

There is no train from Alicante to Alcoy

By bus

Buses (Travicoi Company) connect Valencia and Alcoy. The trip takes about two hours. In Valencia, you can take the bus at the central bus station. In Alcoy, it is advisable to get off at the “Els Alçamora” stop.

Bus company Subus links Alicante and Alcoy. The trip takes about two hours. In Alicante, you can take the bus at the central bus station, while in Alcoy it is convenient to stop at “Paseo de Cervantes” stop.

By taxi:

The price of taxi travel between Alicante (or Valencia) and Alcoy is ca. 75 € and 115 € respectively, and it lasts 45 min from Alicante and 1.30 h from Valencia. If you will require this service, you can contact us.

Alcoy and social program

Social activities are foreseen for the morning of Friday, 7th June. Two possibilities will be offered:

- a) A guided visit to the city center, including a visit to the most important “art deco” buildings
- b) A trekking at the Natural Park of the Font Roja, one of the best preserved examples of the Mediterranean forest

In addition a visit to the “Museu Alcoià de la Festa” will also be scheduled
